Dear Lady Young and Ms Mooney,

MISS GAIA YOUNG (DECEASED)

I had put in place some ongoing searches with regard to your sad matter. I had taken also a somewhat Edward de Bono lateral thinking approach to the searches and what has come up intriguingly is a single case report from 2017, a copy of which is attached.

I do appreciate that this contrary to your own opinion, but it does demonstrate that amazingly OTC deficiency may be a hidden condition in people, but in this particular situation it was actually the liver transplantation in the recipient that tragically led to them developing the condition.

I do not know whether this is useful or not, but in terms of your continued researches and academic interest I thought that I was under a duty to send this paper to you. Single papers do not mean a great deal, but they are better than no papers.

With kind regards

Yours sincerely
